

Fairway Cooperative Purdue University

Member Testimonial

"As I prepared for my first semester at Purdue, I was nervous about making friends, getting acquainted with the campus, doing well in my classes, and keeping my spiritual life strong. Looking back now, I have received valuable help from older members of the house, made over fifty of the closest friends I have ever had, and been challenged and encouraged in my walk with God.

Fairway is an amazing and life changing place that helps you mature quickly and allows you to pursue valuable leadership opportunities. If you are looking for a housing opportunity that will hold you accountable spiritually and provide you with lifelong memories and friends, Fairway is the place for you!"

-Evan Guse, Pledge Class 2010

Men's Christian housing opportunity at Purdue University

Fairway Cooperative is an alternative living option for Christian men at Purdue University. Fairway is a great living alternative for Christian men who want to attend Purdue but still want to live in a strong Christian environment. We often describe Fairway as an opportunity to attend a major public university while enjoying the atmosphere of a smaller Christian college.

We strongly encourage incoming freshman to apply. Fairway is the best place to start your college career spiritually, academically, and socially.

Our new member selection process includes an application, interview, and house tour. This always takes place at the beginning of the second semester. If you are interested and planning to attend Purdue in the fall of 2012, visit fairway.org/recruitment to learn more about the application process.
